✂ A DEEP DIVE INTO THE MYSTIC GROVE

ERA ONE

A JOURNEY THROUGH INTUITION

The Owl... traversing the bookish cults of the 17th century wields his pen as it softly rolls on the pages of a timeless book he holds.

"As for you", said the Owl, "we wanted to spare you the ridicule of those who did not know the true journey of our recipe... for it is only for those that truly seek its comfort."

As he writes the final string of words on his sacred book, he signs it off with "MG-CHAPTER XII"; a note for the seekers who dare to witness quick fate, a note that speaks the number 12, or as eloquently said, CHAPTER 12.

In the realm of the Owl, the nocturnal succeeds in bridging the gap between the eras faced before those who brew the recipe of the MYSTIC GROVE. "We will only combine the requirements and not coordinate the change", said the first seeker of the Owl. Like the vastness of space in a timeless continuum of thought, the cosmic confines to those who put away chaos in an orderly manner FOR THE SAKE OF THE GROVE SOCIETY.

The Owl then thought to himself, "if planets roll at wild, and more often than not smash into rising stars, then why would I adhere to a sense of hope, a hope of hope, and a hope of sensible order." This adoration of attitude and clarity led the Owl to create his own society in the 17th century called THE GROVE'S DEN.

In this den, the seekers traverse through the ranks wielding a parchment of secrecy that states; "you shall spread Chapter XII but you shall also keep its recipe a secret... for those who dwindle to the bitterness of curiosity and reveal, shall perish instantly."

The seekers and the Owl go about their time conversing in the grove's den, and at the end of the nightly cycle, the Owl departs and wanders into the unknown, filling the ranks of his timeless and sacred book with more eras to come.

✂ A DEEP DIVE INTO THE MYSTIC GROVE ERA TWO

HUES OF BLUE AND STORIES OF GOLD

PRELUDE TO THE FULL STORY

Deep in the Grove's Den, the Owl spent most of his time writing up blueprints in his sacred book on how best to access the timeless portals that are hidden between concaves of mountains, valleys, and forests ...

The seekers that passed through the Den, abiding by their parchment of secrecy, noticed subtle peculiar patterns in the Owl's tone. He began speaking of hues of blue and stories of gold ...

At first, the seekers were reluctant to ask about what was clouding the Owl's mind. But after witnessing the arrival of three peculiar and delicate characters, they knew they had to find out the truth before it catches them by surprise ...

The Owl welcomed their arrival with gin spirits of new titles; "Chapter VIII" and "Chapter IX" ...

The three characters were here for a reason all along. The Owl stated during his speech that, The Grand Duke, The Plague Doctor, and The Astronomer are going to take the Owl's place until he gets back. They will seek to further sustain the order of the Grove Society as well as bring their expertise to various corners around the Den ...
